The Grand Council of the Young Men's Institute closed its fifth annual session, which was held at Music Hall in Louisville last week, on Wednesday, October 17th. This institute is a Catholic organization, which meets with the approval of the Pope. Leo XIII, and has received his blessing. The organization is a secret one, and is for Catholics only. The secret is fraternal and benevolent. Kentucky is well represented in the list of Grand officers elected. The next meeting will be held at Indianapolis, Ind.

There will be a grand rally and 2000 badge at Duncan Heights, Natick, on Wednesday, October 17th, in the interests of the youth of Jefferson, Jackson, Biden, and Cleveland, and many distinguished speakers will present to break bread with the longest Democrats of Jessamine and expand the pure tenets of the Democratic party.

JAMES L. CLEARY, JR., was nominated by the Republican Congressional Convention in the Ashland district to carry their banner in the right until the 7th of November. They will be done up in the fall that their colors will be held up to it by degrees.—From "What is That?" in "Democrat's Magazine" for October.

FITZSIMMONS DONE HIM UP.

Two rounds, between the Australians, Fitzsimmons and Creedon, which took place in the area of the Olympic Club in New Orleans, for a purse of $5000, Wednesday night, resulted in the complete disqualification of Creedon.

Bound One—both men fell for each other for an opening. Fitzsimmons led him short, however, but he forced the fighting and landed a hard right on the head, and Creedon scored a hard blow now. A moment later Creedon caught a left on the chin, and one, three on the head. The men had to be separated by the referee. Creedon had a right on the head.

Bound Two—Creedon missed a high left swing for the head, but he landed two rights on the body. Fitz scored two heavy rights and knocked Creedon with a heavy right hand on the jaw.

Fitz landed heavily right on the jaw, and the men had to be forced to a clinch. Creedon received two heavy rights on the jaw and three rights on the body. Creedon knocked out by a heavy left on the jaw.

There was the wildest demonstration ever seen in the ring. Referee Dwyer dashed right to Fitzsimmons, who was a dead man.

Referee Dwyer announced Fitz's challenge to Chapman Corbett. The appearance that followed was

A boy who could not be frightened by a dusky-faced brute or a fierce tiger.

Dr. McTavish of Edinburgh was something of a ventriloquist, and it bated his breath to lead a host to assist in the surgery when necessarily of strong men. He received several applications, and when telling a lad what the duties were, in order to test his nerves, he would say, while pointing to a grimacing skeleton standing upright in a corner, "But of your word will I let a host to the skeleton there, and while you are here you may as well try to do so."

It was too much, and without exception the lads dropped the hand and fled. The lad began to despair of ever getting a suitable brace until a tall, thin, and pale-faced lad was given the grand in sum.

After the first round the skeleton pointed to him, "You're a fellow, lad!"

Several in the audience and as fast as ever, the lad raised the skull and presently retorted, "Well, I do, and I do, and I do."

The doctor sat down in his chair and roared, but who he roared to, he did not say on the spot. London Times.

The following is a list of the most prominent horsemen of Madison county: Howard Neal, Henry Stinson, A. B. Barnes, R. P. Fox & Sons, Tom McKee, C. D. Clemons, Samuel Stoen, Cohen & Bates, T. McRae, David Wileys, C. T. Fox, Hume Bros., G. B. Milton, McCord & Bates.

Pepper's stable of race horses at the Graveston track race on the 22d brought an average price of $1,200. The br. col. Pepper by Hindoo, dam Princess, brought $1,200. Franklin 2, b. c. by Hindoo, dam Miss Used, $1,750; the Queen, br. m. by King Alphonso, dam Julia, $1,500, and several others at prices ranging from $1,500 down to $500.

In a recent interview with a prominent horse fancier, it was his opinion that the raising of fast horses has taken a new feature in Madison county, from the fact that heretofore horses were principally bred and trained more on account of a personal pride in owning a fast animal than for the money there was in the business. This has now changed and the fast horse is bred and trained for speed, but for size and appearance. It was once the case when if an animal only had the speed it was all right, no matter how ungainly, but this has changed, and a good looking animal is sought for among the fast stock as well as speed.

THE DOCTRINE OF KARMA.

So far as may be known, the doctrine of Karma, if not the central tenet of theosophy, is, at least, one of its most vital articles of faith. Karma has been variously defined as retribution, punishment, reward, a settlement of accounts in the world to come, and divine vengeance.

It is well known that if a person has done a wrong, he will be forced to strike back in a direct or roundabout way for his wrong, and is only people with conservative views with regard to karma who have anything to say against it. If a person has done a wrong, he will get credit for it if he repents, and there's an end of it. If he repents, she will get credit for it if she repents, and there's an end of it.

"But," said she, in her bright, breezy way, "I never thought to do so at last and now I am glad of it. A woman went to me and now she wants to strike back in a direct or roundabout way for her wrong, and is only people with conservative views with regard to karma who have anything to say against it. If a person has done a wrong, he will get credit for it if he repents, and there's an end of it. If he repents, she will get credit for it if she repents, and there's an end of it."

GENERAL W. WARD DUFFEY of the "Times" has the following to say relative to a young lady from Shreveport, La., who has recently made an entry into a sphere of action that has heretofore been recognized in Kentucky as for women only. Miss O'Connor is one of the most successful educators of the state, and her recent record urged upon her the desire to take up the cause of the poor. The Y. M. C. A. has been the most prominent organization in the state, and it is the Y. M. C. A. that has been leading the way. Miss O'Connor is a tall, stately looking girl, with a very amount of independence, and is determined to make a success of her project. She has been eight years in the Y. M. C. A., and until recently lacked the courage to take up that project into the center of public life.

"But," said she, in her bright, breezy way, "I never thought to do so at last and now I am glad of it. A woman went to me and now she wants to strike back in a direct or roundabout way for her wrong, and is only people with conservative views with regard to karma who have anything to say against it. GENERAL W. WARD DUFFEY of the "Times" was recently appointed to a lucrative position under the Government; i. e., Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey to succeed Prof. T. C. Mendenhall resigned. The position is one worth $10,000 a year. The General's record is one of, and an armful of, record. At one time during the war he was in command of the U. S. troops in Kentucky; he has been in divided public lands in Kentucky; has represented his home district in Michigan as Senator, was chief engineer of the K. U. R. R., and located the author of a military work entitled "School of Bridges and Evolution of the Line." His appointment is looked upon with favor, and is considered a compliment to a worthy man.

DAVID B. HILL was nominated for Governor of New York by acclamation last Wednesday. Not one dissenting vote out of the 388. Daniel W. Lookwood, of Buffalo, for the office of Lieutenant Governor, Judge Gaynor for Judge of the Court of Appeals. The nominees Hill and Lookwood were serenaded at the Krome Hotel at Albany and Senator Hill made a few appropriate remarks to the assembled thousands who had quickly gathered. The scene is said to have been one that will be long remembered in the capital city of the Empire State.

Boyl Don't shoot any quail until November 15th. This suits the law. If you don't pay attention thereto you may have to pay dollars to some brazen minion of the Commonwealth.

John Taylor, of Pike county, has come among us, and will hereafter be found with his shoe brush and box ready to give you a shine near the Climax corner. Encourage the best boot black in town.

The report of the Madison County Teachers' Association held September 22nd, was received last week to late for insertion, which is a source of regret to us. Friends will kindly remember that we cannot receive anything for publication unless it be of extreme importance or interest after 12 o'clock on Tuesday.

Patrick Dougherty jumped from a train here last Wednesday night and was barely bruised.

The 10-year-old daughter of Mary Ann Huitt, of Winchester, was visiting a friend of the latter on First street Sunday last and the child accidentally fell into an uncovered cistern, about 9 feet in depth. The child's mother was not meeting, but an alarm was raised, and soon a large crowd came to the rescue. There is two or three feet of water in the cistern, and the girl was not injured, only frightened.

Saturday morning the 16th inst., Aram, the 8-year-old son of Mrs. Patrice White, of Davyville, was accidentally caught by the fingers of his left hand in a sugar mill and his hand and arm to the elbow were drawn in and crushed into an unrecognizable mass. Dr. J. W. Harris, of Union City, we are informed, performed the amputation. It will be remembered by the readers of the CLIMAX, that last winter another son of Mrs. White's, aged about eighteen, while cutting timber for wood, felled a tree, and in getting it down was killed. Mrs. White has the sympathy of the community in this her new affliction.

Hard on Winchester.

A jealous Mt. Sterling man told the following story recently:

While coming up on a K. C. train from Cincinnati it ran over a polecat near Anseritz and as the sent penetrated the nostrils of some of the passengers for Winchester they gathered up their luggage, preparatory to disembarking. On being told that the train had not yet reached Winchester, they explained that they recognized the familiar smell of the water-worn water and supposed they were in Winchester. Of course nobody will place credence in this story. Our water supply was simply horrid the past summer, but the improvements made and new filter added at the works now give the best water in Central Kentucky—Democrat.

Gov. McCreary at Crab Orchard.

A good crowd gathered at Crab Orchard Tuesday to hear Gov. McCreary's speech, which was born full of sound arguments and pure Democratic doctrine.

He first apologized for the absence of his competitors, stating that Dr. Roberts, being unable to own his station, could not speak. Mr. Denison had exhausted him self at Lancaster the afternoon before, and Mr. Thomas, the popular, had, he supposed, given up the ghost. He then discussed the hard bid, told what the last Congress had done, gave his reasons for believing that better times were close at hand, and wound up with an eloquent appeal to the Democrats for their unshaken support of the entire ticket at the November election. His speech was well received and will have a telling effect at the proper time. The Governor will next address the people of Lincoln county, and the friend of Berea, Lancaster, and the court-house member sat. The following day, October 9th, he will speak at Unionville on the 10th. Last Saturday evening.

Quarterly Meeting.

The first quarterly meeting of the conference year will be held at Providence Church Saturday and Sunday next, October 6th and 7th. Dr. Vaughan, the Presiding Elder, will be in attendance.

We will pray at the Methodist Church in Richmond Saturday night at the usual hour. Clerical officials and members are requested to take notice.

The weather was perfect, in fact at least it was like summer. And as for game, why even in our wildest imagination we had not thought that the mountains of Colorado could produce such an abundance of it. Deer were thicker than rabbits in Kentucky. One of our party remarked that he had never thought he would see a deer without shooting it, but the time came to him then. Hundreds of the sportive animals passed us unheeded. We killed one bull elk and five spined bucks. They were superb specimens of their kind, and will be good specimens for the market.
